CULTIVATING RESILIENCE

Pathways to Reclaiming our Healthy Communities

The Native American Training Institute, Inc. invites you to the 9th Annual NATI Professional Education Program for Behavioral Health Professionals.

The annual five-day "school" provides a forum where practitioners from all parts of Indian Country attain their continuing education units and share their knowledge, while networking with their peers. This year, NATI will be adding tracks tailored to the youth and veterans.

NATI's history of educating Native American professionals brings value to employers, facilities, programs, and communities. Attendees will learn of traditional healing techniques and practices in accordance to Native American values and way of life.

Who should attend?

- Counselors
- Case Managers
- Mental Health Professionals
- Tribal Court Judges
- Tribal Leaders
- Youth, Students and Educators
- Social Workers
- Nurses
- Family Service
- TANF Personnel
- Clergy
- Law Enforcement
- Housing Managers
- Physicians
- Therapist
- Veterans

And all individuals who have an interest in behavioral health.

OUR MISSION

NATI provides training in the development and implementation of culture, strengths, and spiritual based programs for Native and non-native people

CEUs

Up to 30 continuing education units (CEUs) will be offered for completing required courses. CEUs are administered by the New Mexico Counseling and Therapy Practice Board (NMCTPB); the National Association of Drug Abuse and Alcohol Certification (NADAAC); the National Association of Social Workers (NASW); the New Mexico Certification Board for Behavioral Health Professionals (NMCBBHP); and the University of New Mexico.

SPONSORS & EXHIBITORS

Be part of the healing process! Promote your organization through NATI's personalized sponsorship program, such as branded event collateral, speaking opportunities, attendee meals, etc. most packages include a complimentary exhibit booth. Sponsorship doesn't fit into your budget? Consider renting an exhibit booth during the NATI school.

Download the sponsor prospectus and exhibit booth forms at www.nmnati.org for additional information.
